

From: Gary, gclay2@XXXXXXXXXX.XXX

Message:

I recently purchased the "Zombie Apocalypse Survival Kit v2012" from your eBay store.

I've lived on the Gulf Coast for most of my life where we are no strangers to emergency situations due to hurricanes, flooding, fire etc. I'm also a diehard zombie fan! I had been talking with my fiancé about getting an emergency kit together for many years but the cost of getting the essentials was to say the least, exorbitant. After lots of internet searching, comparing, discussing on what kits were quality made with the proper equipment for emergencies (or a zombie apocalypse) we decided on the aforementioned kit.

However, this kit was not for us. It was to be given away at our wedding reception. Since we have an "undying" love for one another, we decided to have a zombie themed wedding and reception! It was a huge hit and everyone participated, from ages 5 to 75. That's right, even grandma dressed as a zombie! It was definitely a huge event that took months of planning. We wanted to make it a wedding/reception that no one would soon forget.

The premise is that even in life or death, we will survive with the right tools and skill.

I gave the zombie apocalypse kit away to the first prize winners as they had the most over the top costumes putting in great effort. They thoroughly enjoyed the kit and its contents. My wife did not want to part with it as she found it to be "complete". (Well that and she liked the big knife!)

I just wanted to thank you for making such a quality kit. I received a lot of questions from people wanting to purchase one so I photocopied your card and emailed it to all the guests of the party. We will be purchasing at least 2 more soon for Christmas time. One as a gift and one for ourselves of course. Once again, thank you everything!

Be safe and take care!

